

2026 HRVI International Conference Sponsorship Packet Reno, NV 9/10-9/11/2026

The Heart Rate Variability Institute (HRVI) invites partners and vendors to join us for the 2026 International HRV Conference, “HRV in Action: Enhancing Health and Peak Performance Outcomes,” taking place this September in Reno, Nevada. This year’s event brings together leading researchers, clinicians, technologists, and performance professionals to explore how HRV is transforming health, resilience, and human performance. Hosted during Reno’s iconic Great Balloon Race—one of the city’s most celebrated and visually stunning annual events—the conference offers an exceptional opportunity for sponsors to engage with attendees in a vibrant setting that blends scientific innovation with a uniquely memorable experience.
